

The 3rd Symposium IARO 2025

2025. 6. 28 (Sat.)

We are an international group of experts who continue to research and evaluate new technologies with the aim of promoting correct regenerative medicine based on academic evidence.

Since our foundation in 2023, we have held an annual international symposium, where members from all over the world who are experts in regenerative and anti-aging medicine present their research and engage in discussions.
